Heals Jurgen will be accompanied by an animated chest and lower body pair called His Heals. His Heals will show visible effects of the action they undertake. For example, kicks to the head, body or arms will cause the player to lose a little energy in a particular area. Players will also be able to use His Heals to recover some of that lost energy. Punting the ball with the feet will 'charge up' a player's upper body and legs. They can then be recalled into play by using the right trigger or by tapping into his energy to recover "a little bit" of energy lost during a game. Jurgen, for example, could be recalling from the back pocket a player who has been kicked hard in the stomach. This acts like a powered-up version of the player with His Heals on. Both His Heal animations will be smoother and more realistic, helping them feel more connected to the gameplay. Tactical Free Kicks Jurgen will also be accompanied by the Tactical Free Kicks (TFK) motion, which is where players can use the ball's movement after it is played to control ball movement in three ways. This is also one of the key areas in which the lower game difficulty levels will differ. The Tactical Free Kicks (TFK) include a number of different types of free kicks that the players can use in the game. The 'Spin' TFK lets players trigger a spin off the ball to get behind an opponent, the 'Deflect' TFK lets players start a run by deflecting the ball, and the 'Thrust' TFK lets the ball itself run into space. These varied controls will allow players to have many options for passing and countering. At higher game difficulty levels, these controls will start to become less usable and the ball will start to have more direct movement. Players will also be able to "pass to feet" and kick the ball with their feet in easier game levels. Ball Possession Motion Because of the way that football is played, players will be able to touch the ball thousands of times during a game. It's simply not possible for a game to have as many touches as a real football match. The way FIFA 22 tackles this challenge is to "engage" and "retire" players at specific

In Ultimate Team, you can build your own dream squad from more than 30,000 players, taking your preferred formation and style into account. Compete in Tournaments with your friends for top placement and earn rewards. Compete in Leagues for bragging rights. Make your name as a manager and prove to the world just how great you are. EA SPORTS DNA - FIFA 22 will let you experience the most authentic FIFA atmosphere in a new way with EA SPORTS DNA. DNA uses real-world data to inform the AI of your opponents. Anticipate what your opponents are about to do and make the right reads to build on your lead over and over again. Use the latest in advanced statistics to gain an advantage over your opponents. REF WATCHER - Ref Watch is a new way to get up-close and personal with the decisions that matter at FIFA World Cups and beyond. New features include the ability to view referee decisions with audio commentary, and real-world data to help you understand why decisions were made. FIFA CUP - FIFA 20 players will have the chance to join local rivalries in the biggest FIFA tournament of the year, the FIFA CUP, to win their first trophy at the FIFA CUP for this year's tournament. FIFA fans will be able to play from 1 June to 6 August to win the FIFA CUP trophy. EA SPORTS Community Events - Throughout the year, EA SPORTS hosts a number of FIFA community events with FUT players from around the world. These events provide fun, social gathering points for fans and players to share, meet and compete in eSports-style challenges. REAL FOOTBALL MATCH SIMULATION FIFA 22 matches are built to simulate the complete feel of a real football match. From team tactics to scoring, from goalkeepers to refs, every aspect of a football match is analysed and engineered to deliver the deepest, most realistic gameplay to date. Great game, sometimes not the most intuitive. Needs a better tutorial, better availability of the cam, and the AI sometimes needs extra help. Would be great to see the ability to pit 2 different players in each team so that you don't have to pick from a limited selection...now go and buy another game. You are only fooling yourself if you think that it is worth spending the money on this game. Bad...explain please why EA makes such a mess of almost everything FIFA and releases a game that

What's new in Fifa 22:

- Matchday> New seasons bring more to the pitch in FIFA Mobile for the first time. The Ultimate Team manager will evolve over time as your squad drops points away from home and wins in ugly matches.
- Playlist> Support for up to 32-way online single-player and multiplayer matches and up to 4-way splitscreen multiplayer.

- Gameplay> The Complete Player Experience! For the first time in the FIFA franchise, you can use the various new on-the-ball and off-the-ball actions in the Ultimate Team Manager mode. And this year, you can use animated tattoos to take advantage of some of the pre-set animations. Plus, make sure you counter pressure and read the game, as new pairings, off-ball and positioning animations are added.
- Sound, Graphics and Visuals> Physically based audio engine adds the “echoing” of the ball, as well as t-shirt movement and spinning subs. An all-new Frostbite engine powers a new presentation style that blends in-game world styling with realistic character movement and facial details, like an exacting attention to detail.
- User Interface
- Your Career
- Player CareerThis year, players earn money as rewards for playing and making good decisions in-game, in addition to selling squad members on and off the pitch. You can set team funds and choose which players are valuable enough to sell on - this also significantly improves your economic balance and whether your team will be able to make strategic or tactical moves.
- Player Contract
- The new contract system in FIFA improves the team management aspect of progressing players in the game, allows you to manage multiple players using the same contract, and allows you to create your own transfer system.

- Play Ball
