Squirrels are going nuts is a brick blasting, block busting, tile breaking 2D action adventure game inspired by the classic Bomberman. Players drop bombs and blow up blocks to take over levels and clear their way to victory. The game features a vast selection of explorable levels, power-ups and a unique mission based Story Mode. Squirrels are going nuts supports four player local multiplayer and Steam Remote Play together with up to 3 friends over the internet. Featuring arcade style actions, precise controls, Steam stats, achievements and a unique soundtrack. Awards Squirrels are going nuts was nominated for "Worst Mobile Game" award in the Independent Games Festival. The ListView works as a page and I can load data and add, edit, delete it correctly. I only need to get the item selected in the ListView and pass it as a String. This is my code: @Override public void onCreate(Bundle savedInstanceState) { super.onCreate(savedInstanceState); setContentView(R.layout.activity_read); db = openOrCreateDatabase("RecortesDeCuerpo.db", MODE_PRIVATE, null); items = new ArrayList<>(); items.add(new
