Credit Cards Credit cards that store large amounts of data at a fraction. Creative cloud says its users want to work with their data regardless of where it sits whether it's on- or off-premises. New Year's Resolutions are without a doubt, the most popular kind. Whether it be a resolution to spend more time with your family, or eat healthier, or save money for a special vacation, the famous saying for this time of the year is "New Year, New Me". Well, its time to make a resolution for another year of fulfillment. If I was to take the entire month of November and December to reflect on myself, I would be completely consumed by these "self" topics. This month is perhaps the most important to me to reflect on my life. I have been an independent, single mom for 5 years now. In that time, I have seen my daughter grow up and become a young woman. I have seen my son get his life back on track and get that job he so deserved. I've seen me come back from an attempted suicide, I've seen me become a better person. I have also been married to the same man for 11 years. That relationship has also come to a close, but I am not in any way sad to see it end. I am definitely sad to see our daughter's close relationship end, but that is all part of life. She is now 21 and in college, which I am so proud of her. So I am going to take a moment here to take a look at the past 5 years and what my life is now. 2006-2011: Single mom, part-time mom, friend I was married at 21 years old to a man I did not love. I was struggling with obesity, depression, and anxiety. This is when I began to seek the help of a psychiatrist. This is when I learned I was bipolar. I have had many jobs, but unfortunately I have not had much success, especially when it comes to meeting people. I never had many friends, but I gained a lot of people after I was diagnosed. I always felt
